

SURVIVAL TIPS

1 Use your librarian

We are here to help! Easy questions, hard questions, impossible questions? We'll take them all. Schedule an appointment with a librarian (<http://libcal.lib.rochester.edu/appointments/>)

2 Use subject guides

Each subject has a website, listing some of the best books and databases for research in that area. If you don't know where to start Go to the subject guides (<http://libguides.lib.rochester.edu>).

3 Use a reference manager

Programs like RefWorks or EndNote help you collect and organize your citations. Your life will be so much easier! Check the reference manager list (<http://libguides.lib.rochester.edu/referencemanagers>).

4 Use Interlibrary Loan (ILL)

If the library doesn't have the item you want, let us get it for you. It's fast, free, and fantastic. Click here to submit your request (<https://illiad.lib.rochester.edu/>).

5 Use the Writing, Speaking & Argument Program (WSAP)

The WSAP is there to help! Wherever you are in writing process, they'll give great suggestions and feedback. Drop in, or make an appointment. Go to WSAP (<http://writing.rochester.edu>)
